FOREWORD BY THE MINISTER

Our national curriculum is the culmination of our efforts over a period of seventeen years to transform the curriculum bequeathed to us by apartheid. From the start of democracy we have built our curriculum on the values that inspired our Constitution (Act 108 of 1996). The Preamble to the Constitution states that the aims of the Constitution are to:

- heal the divisions of the past and establish a society based on democratic values, social justice and fundamental human rights;
 - improve the quality of life of all citizens and free the potential of each person;
 - lay the foundations for a democratic and open society in which government is based on the will of the people and every citizen is equally protected by law; and
- build a united and democratic South Africa able to take its rightful place as a sovereign state in the family of nations.

Education and the curriculum have an important role to play in realising these aims.

In 1997 we introduced outcomes-based education to overcome the curricular divisions of the past, but the experience of implementation prompted a review in 2000. This led to the first curriculum revision: the Revised National Curriculum Statement Grades R-9 and the National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 (2002).

Ongoing implementation challenges resulted in another review in 2009 and we revised the Revised National Curriculum Statement (2002) and the National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 to produce this document.

From 2012 the two National Curriculum Statements, for Grades R-9 and Grades 10-12 respectively, are combined in a single document and will simply be known as the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12. The National Curriculum Statement for Grades R-12 builds on the previous curriculum but also updates it and aims to provide clearer specification of what is to be taught and learnt on a term-by-term basis.

The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 represents a policy statement for learning and teaching in South African schools and comprises of the following:

- (a) Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements (CAPS) for all approved subjects listed in this document;
- (b) National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
- (c) National Protocol for Assessment Grades R-12.

SECTION 1

INTRODUCTION TO THE CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT POLICY STATEMENTS FOR RELIGION STUDIES GRADES 10-121.1 Background

The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (NCS) stipulates policy on curriculum and assessment in the schooling sector.

To improve implementation, the National Curriculum Statement was amended, with the amendments coming into effect in January 2012. A single comprehensive Curriculum and Assessment Policy document was developed for each subject to replace Subject Statements, Learning Programme Guidelines and Subject Assessment Guidelines in Grades R-12.

1.2 Overview

- (a) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) represents a policy statement for learning and teaching in South African schools and comprises the following:
- (i) Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements for each approved school subject;
 - (ii) The policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
 - (iii) The policy document, National Protocol for Assessment Grades R-12 (January 2012).
- (b) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) replaces the two current national curricula statements, namely the
- (i) Revised National Curriculum Statement Grades R - 9, Government Gazette No. 23406 of 31 May 2002, and
 - (ii) National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 Government Gazettes, No. 25545 of 6 October 2003 and No. 27594 of 17 May 2005.
- (c) The national curriculum statements contemplated in subparagraphs b(i) and (ii) comprise the following policy documents which will be incrementally repealed by the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) during the period 2012-2014:
- (i) The Learning Area/Subject Statements, Learning Programme Guidelines and Subject Assessment Guidelines for Grades R - 9 and Grades 10-12;
 - (ii) The policy document, National Policy on assessment and qualifications for schools in the General Education and Training Band d, promulgated in Government Notice No. 124 in Government Gazette No. 29626 of 12 February 2007;
 - (iii) The policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), promulgated in Government Gazette No.27819 of 20 July 2005;

- (iv) The policy document, An addendum to the policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), regarding learners with special needs, published in Government Gazette, No.29466 of 11 December 2006, is incorporated in the policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
- (v) The policy document, An addendum to the policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), regarding the National Protocol for Assessment (Grades R-12), promulgated in Government Notice No.1267 in Government Gazette No. 29467 of 11 December 2006.
- (d) The policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12, and the sections on the Curriculum and Assessment Policy as contemplated in Chapters 2, 3 and 4 of this document constitute the norms and standards of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12. It will therefore, in terms of section 6A of the South African Schools Act, 1996 (Act No. 84 of 1996), form the basis for the Minister of Basic Education to determine minimum outcomes and standards, as well as the processes and procedures for the assessment of learner achievement to be applicable to public and independent schools.

1.3 General aims of the South African Curriculum

- (a) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 gives expression to the knowledge, skills and values worth learning in South African schools. This curriculum aims to ensure that children acquire and apply knowledge and skills in ways that are meaningful to their own lives. In this regard, the curriculum promotes knowledge in local contexts, while being sensitive to global imperatives.
- (b) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 serves the purposes of:
- equipping learners, irrespective of their socio-economic background, race, gender, physical ability or intellectual ability, with the knowledge, skills and values necessary for self-fulfilment, and meaningful participation in society as citizens of a free country;
 - providing access to higher education;
 - facilitating the transition of learners from education institutions to the workplace; and
 - providing employers with a sufficient profile of a learner's competences.
- (c) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 is based on the following principles:
- Social transformation: ensuring that the educational imbalances of the past are redressed, and that equal educational opportunities are provided for all sections of the population;
 - Active and critical learning: encouraging an active and critical approach to learning, rather than rote and uncritical learning of given truths;
 - High knowledge and high skills: the minimum standards of knowledge and skills to be achieved at each grade are specified and set high, achievable standards in all subjects;
 - Progression: content and context of each grade shows progression from simple to complex;

- Human rights, inclusivity, environmental and social justice: infusing the principles and practices of social and environmental justice and human rights as defined in the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa. The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 is sensitive to issues of diversity such as poverty, inequality, race, gender, language, age, disability and other factors;
 - Valuing indigenous knowledge systems: acknowledging the rich history and heritage of this country as important contributors to nurturing the values contained in the Constitution; and
 - Credibility, quality and efficiency: providing an education that is comparable in quality, breadth and depth to those of other countries.
- (d) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 aims to produce learners that are able to:
- identify and solve problems and make decisions using critical and creative thinking;
 - work effectively as individuals and with others as members of a team;
 - organise and manage themselves and their activities responsibly and effectively;
 - collect, analyse, organise and critically evaluate information;
 - communicate effectively using visual, symbolic and/or language skills in various modes;
 - use science and technology effectively and critically showing responsibility towards the environment and the health of others; and
 - demonstrate an understanding of the world as a set of related systems by recognising that problem solving contexts do not exist in isolation.
- (e) Inclusivity should become a central part of the organisation, planning and teaching at each school. This can only happen if all teachers have a sound understanding of how to recognise and address barriers to learning, and how to plan for diversity.

The key to managing inclusivity is ensuring that barriers are identified and addressed by all the relevant support structures within the school community, including teachers, District-Based Support Teams, Institutional-Level Support Teams, parents and Special Schools as Resource Centres. To address barriers in the classroom, teachers should use various curriculum differentiation strategies such as those included in the Department of Basic Education's Guidelines for Inclusive Teaching and Learning (2010).

SECTION 2

2.1 What is Religion Studies?

Religion Studies is the study of religion as a universal human phenomenon and of religions found in a variety of cultures. Religion and religions are studied without favouring any or discriminating against any, whether in theory or in practice, and without promoting adherence to any particular religion. Religion Studies leads to the recognition, understanding and appreciation of a variety of religions within a common humanity, in the context of a civic understanding of religion and with a view to developing religious literacy.

1. The subject contains the following four topics:
 - Variety of religions
 - Common features of religion as a generic and unique phenomenon
 - Topical issues in society
 - Research into and across religions

The four topics of Religion Studies allow for specialisation in a specific religion in Grade 12. Part of the content provides for this by allowing an in-depth study of an issue in a specific religious context while the other parts call specifically for the study of the central teachings and normative sources of one religion. Specialisation in a religion must come after the various religions have been explored.

2.2 Specific aims

Religion Studies aims to:

- (i) enhance the constitutional values of citizenship, human rights, equality, freedom from discrimination and freedom of conscience, religion, thought, belief and opinion;
- (ii) develop the learner holistically, that is, intellectually, physically, socially, emotionally and spiritually;
- (iii) enhance knowledge, skills and values necessary for the enrichment of each learner, interpersonal relationships and an open and democratic society;
- (iv) equip the learner with knowledge and understanding of a variety of religions and how they relate to one another; and
- (v) equip the learner with knowledge and skills for research into religion as a social phenomenon, and across religions as well as to relate and systematise universal dimensions of religion.

2.3 Time allocation for Religion Studies in the curriculum

Four hours per week are allocated to Religion Studies in the NCS. This means that there are 132 hours available for the teaching of Religion Studies in Grades 10, 11 and 12 hours in Grade 12. The groupings of content in section 3 of this document are paced across the 40 weeks (160 hours) of the school year to ensure coverage of the curriculum.

SECTION 4

ASSESSMENT IN RELIGION STUDIES

4.1 Introduction

Assessment is a continuous planned process of identifying, gathering and interpreting information about the performance of learners, using various forms of assessment. It involves four steps: generating and collecting evidence of achievement, evaluating this evidence, recording the findings and using this information to understand and assist the learner's development in order to improve the process of learning and teaching.

Religion Studies is not a form of religious instruction. Personal faith and beliefs are not critically assessed. What is assessed is the way in which operative concepts and thinking skills are applied to religion as a social phenomenon.

Learners' progress in Religion Studies is monitored throughout the school year and involves the following two different but related activities:

- (i) Informal or daily assessment tasks; and
- (ii) Formal assessment tasks.

4.2 Informal or daily assessment

Informal or daily assessment is a daily monitoring of learners' progress. This is done through observation, discussions, practical demonstrations, learner-teacher conferences, informal classroom interactions, etc. Informal assessment should not be seen as separate from learning activities taking place during a lesson.

Informal assessment tasks in Religion Studies are used as part of the teaching and learning process to:

- (i) assess strengths and weaknesses in a timely manner, as a baseline or diagnostic assessment of learners' abilities;
- (ii) alert teachers and learners to the need for additional support (revising certain sections) and reassessment of teaching and learning activities;
- (iii) motivate and encourage learners to participate actively in class; and
- (iv) reinforce the development of learners' skills, knowledge and values.

Learners or teachers can mark these assessment tasks. Self-assessment and peer assessment actively involve learners in assessment. This is important, as it allows learners to learn from and reflect on their own performance. The results of the informal daily assessment tasks are not formally recorded unless the teacher wishes to do so. The results of daily assessment tasks are not taken into account for promotion and certification purposes.

4.3 Formal assessment

All assessment tasks that make up a formal programme of assessment for the year are regarded as formal assessment. Formal assessment tasks are marked and formally recorded by the teacher for progression and certification purposes. All formal assessment tasks are subject to moderation for the purpose of quality assurance and to ensure that appropriate standards are maintained.

Formal assessment provides teachers with a systematic way of evaluating how well learners are progressing in a grade and in a particular subject. The forms of assessment used should be age and developmental level appropriateness. In the formal programme of assessment for Religion Studies learners are expected to complete seven internal tasks per grade.

In Grades 10 and 11, six tasks are undertaken during the year and make up 25% of the total mark for Religion Studies, while the seventh is the end-of-year examination, which makes up the remaining 75%. In Grade 12, all seven tasks are internally set and assessed and make up 25% of the total mark for Religion Studies. The external examination is externally set and moderated and makes up the remaining 75%.

Formal assessments in Religion Studies must cater for a range of cognitive levels and abilities of learners as follows:

Weighting	Cognitive level description	Blooms taxonomy
30%	Recall (knowledge)	Levels 1 and 2
40%	Comprehension	Levels 3 and 4
30%	Analysis, application, evaluation and synthesis	Levels 5 and 6

4.4 Programme of assessment

The programme of assessment is designed to spread formal assessment tasks in all subjects in a school throughout the school year.

The weighting of marks for the seven internal formal assessment tasks for Religion Studies is as follows:

Grades 10 and 11

Term 1	Term 2	Term 3	Term 4
Task 1 Open-book extended writing: 100 marks Task 2 Test: 100 marks	Task 3 Source-based task: 100 marks Task 4 Mid-year examination: 300 marks	Task 5 Project: 100 marks Task 6 Test: 100 marks	Task 7 End-of-year examination: 300 marks

Grade 12

Term 1	Term 2	Term 3	Term 4
Task 1 Source-based task: 100 marks Task 2 Test: 100 marks	Task 3 Open-book extended writing: 100 marks Task 4 Mid-year examination: 300 marks	Task 5 Test: 100 marks Task 6 Project: 100 marks Task 7 Trial examination: 300 marks	External examination: 300 marks

Nature of formal tasks in Religion Studies

The content, concepts and skills for Religion Studies detail the competencies per grade to be achieved in Religion Studies. In order to establish whether content, concepts, knowledge and skills have been attained, assessment will focus on the following aspects:

- (i) Complexity of knowledge increasing within and across grades.
- (ii) Operative concepts and general thinking competencies increasing within and across grades.
- (iii) Data-handling, investigative, problem-solving and communication competencies.

4.4.1 Examinations(i) Grade 10: Mid-year and End-of-year

One two-hour paper: 150 marks multiplied by 2 = 300

In the Grade 10 Religion Studies examination a learner will be required to answer three questions. The question paper will comprise one compulsory question (short questions of 50 marks) and two optional questions of 50 marks each (30 for source-based questions and 20 for extended writing).

- a. Short questions will require one-word answers, which will include definitions, true or false and multiple choice questions. This section will also include questions that require short explanations and brief descriptions.
- b. Source-based questions will focus on examining a range of sources such as texts, maps and graphs and include comparative questions. The required answers will range from short responses to paragraphs.
- c. The extended writing piece will require learners to use their own knowledge and information to produce an extended text on a generic issue.

(i) Grade 11: Mid-year and end-of-year and Grade 12: Mid-year and trial

Two two-hour papers: 150 + 150 = 300

Paper 1: 150 marks

A learner will be required to answer three questions: one compulsory question (short questions of 50 marks) and a choice of two out of three to four questions of 50 marks each. Questions will focus on interrogating a range of sources such as texts, maps, graphs, etc. and include comparative questions. The required answers range from short responses to paragraphs.

Paper 2: 150 marks

Three focused extended writing questions (choice of three out of four to five questions): 50 marks each. Questions will focus on analysing and interpreting generic issues pertaining to religions. Learners are expected to present a position on the issue/or issues from a specific religious perspective and to argue this position and critique it. A source can be included to act as a stimulus.

The mid-year and end-of-year examinations in Grade 11, and the mid-year and the trial examinations in Grade 12 will be similar to the external examination. The examination guidelines will provide details of the social problems that will be addressed in Grade 12 for a particular year; if there are no new guidelines the previous years' guidelines will be considered relevant.

4.4.2 TestOne 1 hour 30 minutes paper: 100 marks

A Religion Studies test will consist of three questions: 30 for source-based questions, 30 for short questions and 40 for extended writing.

4.4.3 Project

The project will be in one of the following forms: a research assignment, oral assignment, enrichment assignment or an investigation. The topic and nature will be determined by the content covered according to the annual teaching plan. The project will require extended reading and writing on the part of the learner. The final product will be in the form of an essay with sub-headings relating to the criteria of the task. Learners will spend time outside of contact time to collect resources and information to perform the task. The completion of the task must be facilitated by the teacher in class time.

Learners should be given a project before the end of the second term, after the content related to the project has been addressed, for submission during the third term. They will need adequate guidance at the outset of the project and progress must be monitored throughout. All assessment criteria applicable to the project must be discussed with the learners prior to the commencement of the project.

Learners should be given a project before the end of the second term, after the content related to the project has been addressed for submission during the third term.

a. Research assignment

This task requires the learner to complete an assignment based on research and involving the process of enquiry. A key question is needed with a topic relating to a specific religious issue. The assignment must show evidence of planning and demonstrate that information (evidence) gained through research was used to construct an argument, make an interpretation and reach a conclusion based on the key question. Ideally, learners will demonstrate their ability to formulate a question for research and to identify, select and access sources relevant to the assignment. Learners will need to be guided in formulating a question for their research assignment and in locating the information sources available to them to research their chosen topic.

b. Oral assignment

An oral assignment will have a number of components, that is, a key question to focus the research; formulation of questions for interview; background research to set interviews in context; interviews and transcription of the interviews; a written discussion about how the information in the interviews relates to the period; at grade 12 level, an evaluation of the interviews as sources about a religion/or religions and self-reflection in terms of personal growth and knowledge and understanding of the religion/or religions at the end.

c. Enrichment assignment

An enrichment assignment is a creative, original, new, fresh way of presenting investigations into religions or research work that cannot be categorised as a traditional or conventional research assignment. The assignment will follow all the steps of the research assignment, with the difference that the ultimate presentation of the investigation or research will have creative elements, for example documentaries, videos, biographies, multimedia presentations, posters, history of religions, investigation of rituals, symbols and related values, texts, commentaries and local traditions. This type of assignment accommodates different learning styles.

d. Investigation

This task involves problem-solving linked to current issues in interpretation and representation of a religion/or religions. Learners will be asked to present plans for addressing misinterpretations across the globe and misrepresentations in a community; or more straightforward investigations into community symbols and rituals associated with a religion/or religions. This will be linked to knowledge about religious sites, religious celebrations and religious holidays. The main idea is to broaden learners' understanding of the religion/or religions and how these are interpreted and represented in society and the world at large. Learners must access information from a variety of sources when carrying out an investigation.

The investigation in grade 12 could be an extension of the assignment carried out in grade 11. However, if teachers wish and time allows it, a new assignment can be completed in grade 12.

4.4.4 Extended writing and source-based tasks

These tasks will include source work and extended writing and should be in the form of an essay with sub-headings relating to the criteria of the task. Each task involves an overall key question. Questions will be based directly on sources and require learners to use their own knowledge and new knowledge gained from the Religion Studies classroom to analyse and interpret the source provided in answering the key question. Learners will examine one or more sources for interpretive, evaluative and comparative reasons. Topics must address the content covered according to the annual teaching plan.

NB. A memorandum or guideline for marking that suits each of the tasks above must be used to assess learner performance in a given task. The nature of the task and the knowledge, skills and values that are to be assessed will provide guidance on the type of marking memorandum. The marking memorandum or guideline must make provision for the learner's own interpretation of the questions.

4.5 Recording and reporting

Recording is a process in which the teacher documents the level of a learner's performance in a specific assessment task. It indicates learner progress towards the achievement of the knowledge and skills as prescribed in the Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements. Records of learner performance should provide evidence of the learner's conceptual progression within a grade and her/or her his readiness to progress or be promoted to the next grade. Records of learner performance should also be used to verify the progress made by teachers and learners in the teaching and learning process.

Reporting is a process of communicating learner performance to learners, parents, schools and other stakeholders. Learner performance can be reported in a number of ways. These include report cards, parents' meetings, school visitation days, parent-teacher conferences, phone calls, letters, class or school newsletters, etc. Teachers will record actual marks against the task by using a record sheet and report percentages against the subject on the learners' report cards.

When recording and reporting on learner performance in Religion Studies, the following marks are applicable per term:

Grades 10 and 11

Term	Assessment task	Mark per term		Year %
		Recording	Reporting
1	Open-book extended writing	100		800/8 = 100 (SBA)
	test	100
		200/2	100
2	Source-based task	100
	Mid-year examination	300
		400/4	100
3	Project	100

4	End-of-year examination	300		75%
	School-based Assessment (SBA)	100		25%
	Total for end of year	400		100%

The SBA is calculated by adding the marks for tasks 1 to 6 out of a total of 800 and divide by 8 to arrive at the SBA mark out of 100.

Grade 12

Term	Assessment task	Mark per term		Year %
		Recording	Reporting
1	Source-based task	100		1100/11 = 100 (SBA)
	Test	100
		200/2	100
2	Open-book extended writing	100
	Mid-year examinations	300
		400/4	100

		500/5	100
4	External examination	300
	SBA	100		25%
	Total for end of year	400		100%

The SBA is calculated by adding the marks for tasks 1 to 7 out of a total of 1100 and divide by 11 to arrive at the SBA mark out of 100.

The various achievement levels and their corresponding percentage bands are as shown in the table below.

Codes and Percentages for Recording and Reporting

Rating code	Description of competence	Percentage
7	Outstanding achievement	80 - 100
6	Meritorious achievement	70 - 79
5	Substantial achievement	60 - 69
4	Adequate achievement	50 - 59
3	Moderate achievement	40 - 49
2	Elementary achievement	30 - 39
1	Not achieved	0 - 29

4.6 Moderation of assessment

Moderation refers to the process that ensures that the assessment tasks are fair, valid and reliable. Moderation should be implemented at school, district, provincial and national levels. Comprehensive and appropriate moderation practices must be in place for the quality assurance of all subject assessments.

Grade 10 and 11 tasks are internally moderated by the head of the department or subject head at a school. The subject advisor must moderate a sample of these tasks during her or/his school visits, to verify the standard of the internal moderation. Grade 12 tasks must be moderated at provincial level. This process will be managed by the provincial education department.
